FOREWORD

In the theatre of life, we,
puppets in hands of fate,
dance to various tunes.

Before we answer the curtain call at this act of the ballet, we wish to present
this book, a choreography of our senior year

9A CLASS

In view of the fact that no formal graduation exercises are to be held for the 9A classes this year, it is thought proper that these classes be accorded some recognition for the successful completion of the junior high school. Even though the line of demarcation between the junior and senior high schools grows steadily fainter, it is felt that the junior institution still has an important function to perform in that it is a definite bridge to link the social and mental gap between the grammar and the senior high schools.

To Our Parents:

Amidst the glamor of graduation it is easy to overlook the sympathy and encouragement parents inspire.

Lest this happen, we reserve this space in our annual to thank you for the genuine stimulation in this new era of life.

PRICE—WHY NOT?

WEATHER: TAMARA, EXCITABLE; TUESDAY,

AN AD-VENTURE IN ROMANCE

Characters: Hallie Tosis who likes to sing. She would be a good singer Effervescent for her voice.

Cris Co who lives in a Borden house. (May the lard protect the working gal)

Scene: Hallie is making a room Neet. Enter Cris Co.

Cris Co: Ah, my pet, what have Yuban doing all day?

Hallie Tosis: I told you I Woodbury the past. I was out with Liz Terine, and Barba Sol. Veedol has been to a cooking school.

Cris Co: Houbigant this, anyways? Cursed is he who is a prey to Jello-sy. Let us be s-Wheaties!

Hallie: You are a Swift worker. I will give you a kick in the Ponds from Behind.

Cris: (Jergen her to him): Ivory woman yearns for romance. Come let us go to the Linit.

Hallie: I Yardley know you. No! Tums down on your proposition.

Cris: Goodbye! Perhaps I shall drop you a Squibb if I don't forget to Postum.

Hallie: Is he Talon the truth? This is more than I can Bayer. Wait, I love you Arden-ly.

(They rush into each others h-ams.)

Cris Co.: (Enna Jettick) Djer Kiss me!

HORRORSCOPES

"The stars shine, but do not tell."

The astrological indications for June are none too good: Your Heart: Venus, the Goddess of Love and Beauty, is in the sign of the Double-Cross during the first 14¼ days of this month; lovers be wary. During the second half of the month, Venus has the Gemini (Heebeee Geebees to you); lovers be wary. Summing up the entire month, I should say that lovers should be wary. If you can't be wary, be as wary as you can. Your Mind: Bunkus, the planet which rules mentality, will be unfriendly*. Thus avoid conditions which might arouse other conditions and thus bring about embarrassing conditions.

*—Not true over weekends.

Editors Note—

I. C. Stars gives personal attention to readers. Simply tear paper into bits, write your name and address plainly on the back, and mail it to us along with the date of your birth, your age, your great-mother's maiden name, your aunt's first husband's nickname, and your bank balance. If your aunt's first husband didn't have a nickname or if she didn't have a husband, you are out of luck. There are absolutely no strings attached to this offer. Act now!

MIGHTY MITE ELUDES G-MEN; ORDERED TO BOIL DRINKING WATER

Sidney Frank, class strong man and well-known class-room "popper-offer," was discovered to be among those missing after a frantic search yesterday. The search was instigated by members of Mr. Chamberlain's fifth period Thursday hygiene class who missed Sydney's unique cracks and mighty words of wisdom. (We wish to inform Mr. Frank's many friends that the search was a thorough one.)

Microscopes and hand lenses were appropriated from the Science Department, and the engineers were urged to hold up the burning of all waste paper until Dominic Celantano could tramp through them. Sewage disposal employees were asked to watch carefully as he might have slipped through the drain pipes.

If Sydney has really been kidnapped, the class treasury is ready to advance any amount up to twenty cents to pay his ransom. All hope, however, has not been given up; Sydney has been merely misplaced. The janitorial staff has agreed to wash out all the inkwells, and he may turn up in the wash.

YE OLDE CEREAL SAGA

PATHOS AND PASSIONS OF AN ASTERISK (Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6)

Basil Piddlipoop was a reamer in an asterisk factory. He didn't like his job. One day when the boss wasn't looking, Basil Piddlipoop sewed six of the most valuable asterisks to the lining of his purple vest. That night, dear reader, he left the factory, never to return. He made his way to the river's edge just in time to see a robot from Wall Street go down for the second time.

"How these Wall Street things do fluctuate!" he remarked as the robot yelled, "Safe Me! Oh, Safe Me!"

"Isn't that the limit?" said our intellectual hero. "I quit the asterisk factory and meet a robot; then right away I'm asterisk my life for her."

But he couldn't safe her. He threw her a life safer. "I hit the robot on the head; he sank. So did the life safer.

Then Basil Piddlipoop traded his treasured asterisks to an antique dealer for a banana.

"Life is so fruital!" he said as he ate the banana.

To be Continued.

CZAR EMANUEL I LYRICS OF YUS AT COURT OF

Without was all the glimmer and shimmer of a Rooshian winter night. Small groups of peasants stood about blowing on their hands to keep them warm. Now and then discontented murmurings rose to shouts. "We are starving; we want bread!" or "He is warm while we are freezing!" But these were quickly subdued by the appearance of the mounted Cossacks.

Within was all the glimmer and shimmer of the Rooshian Court in all its magnificence. The sumptuousness of the attire of the Grand Duchesses, Countesses, Baronesses, etc., could hardly be surpassed.

Suddenly, at the imperial gesture of command there rose a glorious flow of sound from a tall blond stranger. Birds stopped in their flight; the ladies forgot to close their mouths.

Such was the ovation given to Yussuf Lupkinoff, the Crimson Warbler, when he sang before Czar Emanuel Berlovitz I, Conquering Lion of Judah, Knight of the Elastic Garter, Invincible Protector, Defender, and Emperor of the Rooshias. Another royal

Dear Perp:

You don't mind my calling you "Perp," do you? I feel that I know you. I'd suggest that you put a bag over your girl friend's face. She probably looks better that way, anyhow. Then sneak her in through the back door. Perhaps no one will see her.

head laid low; another victory for Franklin High.

This was not Mr. Lupkinoff's first appearance before a crowned head; no, he has sung by special request before every living king and queen, and before many that are now dead. In fact, Joe says that singing before royalty brings in the best royalties.

The court cheered, stamped, and clapped. The peasants danced the Kozchatky. With tears in his eyes the Czar said, "Let my dear people have cake!"

So great was the acclaim that Yussuf was forced to sing many encores. Among them was the Franklin Alma Mater which he has always kept in his heart.

Here is the official statement given by the Czar Emanuel Berlovitz I, Conquering Lion of Judah, Knight of the Elastic Garter, Invincible Defender, Protector, and Emperor of the Rooshias:

"I was chawmed, simply chawmed by the inimitable Mr. Lupkinoff. Never have I heard such golden bubbles of sound proceed from a human throat. He is a veritable nightingale. I, the Czar, can say no more."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS FOR JUNE BRIDES

In order to remove the stench from onions, rub Bifelouy gently on each onion. Be careful not to harm the skins.

To prevent snoring, place a gilded clothespin over the nasal organs. Tape up your mouth. Open windows wide, and expire slowly.

Teachers !!! Make your own adhesive tape. Walk through senior study hall cautiously running your hand beneath each desk. When an ample supply of gum is procured (no color or flavor discrimination) boil in saucepan for 3 minutes. Add carbolic acid. Roll in powdered sugar, spread evenly on ventilator ribbons, and cut in strips. This is guaranteed to silence the most vociferous pupils.*

If you are troubled with visitors in your hair, here is a simple remedy. Procure a piccolo and play the "Star Spangled Banner" with gusto. The visitors, rising patriotically, will be left in mid-air if you remove yourself from their vicinity with great rapidity.

Ed. Note: This is a lousy joke.

How to utilize the moth holes in your last year's bathing suit will be discussed next week.

SUPRESSE DE ZIRE

Enchanted by the terpsichorean antics of the 39 (count 'em) beauteous, buxom, bouncing belles who titillated the twitching, truculent audience into arduous applause, the leaders of society filed out of the auditorium.

Pausing to exchange greetings in the lobby were Mr. and Mrs. Waldimir Brownellivitch, nee Marge Newloffski, and Dr. Stefan Mayka accompanied by his collie-gue veterinarian, Carol Rubenowa. Both are associated with the Barkburg hospital for disabled canines.

A crowd was attracted to the model display by the svelte Hazel Applebomoy and the most glamorous Ethel Halversonya. Among those attracted were the experts on beauty—the All American Don Brown; gigolo Nat Lipsitov; and artist Mario DeMasi.

In the mezzanine, we found some of the cast sipping vodka and munching black bread. Those who asked us to share their repast were William Cookin, prima ballerina; Edward Vassolawitz; Linden the Schwab; and Raymond Hunted.

At a party following the performance, given in honor of Arlena Blackanova, composer of the score, were many celebrities. We spotted Carmen Lombardo, Cullian dancing with Mina "St. Vincent" Tinney; Ivan Wolgastov, the statesman, debating with Dan "Cynic" Garliner; Helen Maniak, Anne "Dietician" Raineri, Miriam Atlas, tree surgeon, and Harriet "Dorothy Thompson" Sherman were interested onlookers.

Roslyn Litwinav, and Earl Kagenoy, both recently acclaimed by the public, exchanged greetings. After partaking of some vodka, Fred "Weismuller" Morris demonstrated some of the latest crawls on the dance floor. George Schelter, undertaker, explained the latest embalming theory to rapt Virginia Stattan, Norm "Globe Trotter" Weinstein and Louis "Sports Announcer" Grossvitch were attentive to the beauties, Virginia Benzin and Naomi Grossanya. Davis Stolaroff and Benjamin Q. Averbachski, associated with Jippem, Jippem, & Howe Co., worried.

The culinary expert, Joe Kamenski, catered the affair. Charles "Bing" Braun acted as master of ceremonies.

Needless to say, the members of corps de wallet of the Class of 1936 had an interesting evening in the morning.

RED SCIENTISTS EXPLODE EINSTEIN THEORY

Loquacious Lunacy

- Bat—the opposite of good, depraved, corrupting, noxious, physically or morally. As a bat girl.
 Fox—plural of fog; a wet condition of the air; as, England is noted for its fox.
 Pig—not little. He ate a pig dinner.
 Menagerie—not real; fancied existence; as, she's always sick, but her illness is only menagerie.
 Bear—two things of a kind; similar in form; as, a bear of shoes.
 Weasel—to make a shrill sound by forcing the breath through the contracted lips; such as, to weasel in the dark.
 Hussy—solid-hoofed animal; such as, a hussy pulls the wagon.
 Kitten—the act of teasing, annoying; poking fun at; as, stop kitten me!
 Zoo—to prosecute at law; as, to zoo for breach of promise.

TOE NAIL SKETCHES

- Milt Kroll—8 square meals a day.
 Norma Salters—Paris in the Spring.
 Seymour Shafer—The number before one.
 Greg Bonnaci—Four score and seven years ago.

 Ozzie Commins—Laugh, clown, laugh.
 Clara Bates—Song at Twilight.
 Laura Davidson—Mrs. Pennyfeather.
 Eva Mae Post—Violets.
 Lavina Goldberg—Smouldering flame.
 Bernice Myers—Diana, the Huntress.
 Al Becker—10 square meals a day.

LITERARY CORNER

By Edgar A. Pest

ASSEMBLY OF THE HOUR

Assemblies are short, assemblies are long,
 Rarely one passes without the school song.

BOOK OF THE HOUR

One thousand, two hundred and twenty-four pages
 Make up this paragon of the ages.

TEACHER OF THE HOUR

With wisdom gleaned through many years,
 She tries to show us the paths of virtue.
 "You see my dears," she smugly says,
 "This is really to help, not hurt you."

PUPIL OF THE HOUR

Latin, chem, hist, and math,
 Make up his daily fare.
 Is it a wonder that he's not,
 Shall we say, all there?

POEM OF THE HOUR

A song to Franklin we do sing,
 Our dear old alma mater;
 For six years has it sheltered us,
 Oh where, oh where, is our pater?

FAUX PAS

- Florence Wage thinks that the Carioca is a breakfast food.
 Milton Karchefsky is under the impression that the Ballet is an island in the Pacific.
 Elizabeth Kelly was disillusioned when she discovered that the Shim Sham was not a night shirt.
 Leon Miller still believes that the Tango is a form of Rope Trouble. . . .
 Irving Koval says that the Rhumba is a high-powered intoxicant. . . .
 Nunzio Lobene admits that Black Bottom refers to dirty pans. . . .
 Hazel Butler knows her geography. The Continental has something to do with Europe, and the Charleston is in North Carolina.
 Jane Eikart thinks that Waltz is a barbecue joint.

IMPOSSIBILITIES! CAN YOU IMAGINE?

- Mr. Bezant leading a jazz orchestra.
 Mr. Wolgast, a Simon Legree.
 Mr. Francis giving advice to the lovelorn.
 Miss Cochrane, Public Enemy No. 1.
 Mr. Tate, serving tea and cookies.
 Miss Nelson, discontinuing peppermint water.
 Miss Thompson, learning "Rhythm In My Nursery Rimes."
 Miss Sullivan, remaining placidly calm during the 3rd period English class.
 Miss Ames on an amateur hour.
 Mr. Rappaport at a loss for words.
 Mr. Butterfield writing a gossip column.

POSSIBILITIES

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

- Mr. Magro doing the Bolero.
 Miss Sullivan imitating Katherine Cornell.
 Miss Town chewing gum.
 Miss Sheehan, the "Sweetheart of the Sigma Chi."
 Mr. Cleland making faces.
 Miss Riley sitting in her drawer.

A SENIOR'S IDEA OF A SENIOR

A senior stood on a railroad track;
 A train was coming fast;
 The train got off the railroad track
 And let the senior pass.

SONG OF FAREWELL

Can it be the E's
 That shake our knees
 With fear and unhappy gloom?
 Oh, no, it isn't the E's
 We're leaving our home.*

*—Pronounced hoom (poetic license)

Amid the blare of a modern jazz orchestra the Experimental Society of Physicists passed another milestone in its hectic development. After dabbling with the electric eye, thermocouples, and photography, the club decided to build a radio. Yesterday the dream came true. It was not a bed of roses, nay, far from it.

When Meyer "Einstein" Dolitz announced his decision to make a life study of ether receivers, the society determined to gain some practical experience on a crystal set. This modest enterprise was a complete success in every respect. In fact, they could get the local stations—sometimes. Fired by an overwhelming desire for bigger and better results, Jerome "Steinmetz" Jacobs and Max "Marconi the Great" Rickless collaborated with "Einstein" Dolitz. They embarked upon their present venture, and then the fun began. In view of the fact that the available parts would have been considered veterans twenty years ago, and that the original plans came with the parts back in the middle ages of radio history, these men went ahead to unravel the tangles of the broadcast receiver.

If the first attempt was a miserable failure, it was certainly not for the lack of wires; in fact, they had so many wires that they couldn't even see the parts themselves. Wires or no wires, they were unable to squeeze a squeak from the obstinate mechanism. Attempts No. 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 were just as successful, but as No. 7 is the winner in the royal game of Dominoes so was it here. (Wait, we are getting ahead of our story.)

As members of the press gathered to witness the acid test of the seventh attempt, the scientists were indeed sceptical. Dolitz, Jacobs, and Rickless, Inc., looked far from joyful. "Just another flop," they thought; they were discouraged. Imagine their astonishment when, as "Einstein" Dolitz slowly turned the dial, there burst forth from the speaker a prodigious howl which was strangely suggestive of the Hound of the Barkervilles. This far exceeded their wildest hopes. When the station was actually tuned in, "Marconi" Rickless and "Steinmetz" Jacobs broke down and wept for joy.

The pinnacle of success, you might say, that the story is over. Have patience; this tale has a sequel. Unsatisfied with this creation, the three martyrs are to revise it again! But why not skip attempts No. 8, 9, and 10 and go directly No. 11?

During these experiments the relatives of the scientists have continually answered their demands for funds with "foocy." These celebrated experimenters now think that Einstein's theory of relatively is all "hoocy," and they are working on a new principle of their own.

Hats off to these three pioneers who have so patiently experimented and who are still forging ahead undaunted and unafraid.

Rocks Rain on Their Prison

This landing stage is a little space which has a timber roof. To the north of it lies a cut about 40 feet long, at the north end of which is a body of water which has been dammed up. From it there is a pipe which leads out to the landing stage, and there is a valve to control the flow. To the south of the landing is another passage, part of it roofed over, the southern part unroofed. This passageway we investigated early but found it to be blocked. From this roof large pieces of rock continued to fall during our imprisonment. The landing stage proper was boarded through it there were two openings, one for the dumping of ore and the other for the passage of the skip. On the east side of the shaft steam pipes, compressed air pipes and what not passed up and down the shaft.

STEPPING STONES

When spaced stepping stones mark the way across a stream, it is best to take each step rather than to leap—and possibly miss.

Applied to a career or a job in the business world this means: High School, then R. B. I., then a position in business. That's better than jumping right for a job and losing out through lack of a drill in business fundamentals and practice.

Make your high school education mean more to you. Top it off with a helpful R. B. I. Day School Course.

IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT!!!

Nana looked lovely in her new Rears-Soebuck frock. Tamara was telling of her married life.

"Sergeroff has done very well," she said. "He's got a Government job; and my dear, he's been terribly successful! Of course, his work is rather confining, etc. . . .
