Foreword

TO THE STAFF OF THE KEY FOR JUNE 1937, THE DISCUS THROWER SYMBOLIZES PERFECTION OF MIND AND BODY. THIS ATTRIBUTE AS AN IDEAL OF CITIZENSHIP MAY WELL BE CONSIDERED THE ULTIMATE GOAL OF PRESENT-DAY EDUCATION.

THOSE WHO GUIDE THE DESTINIES OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL AIM TO PROMOTE BOTH PHYSICAL AND MENTAL PROWESS IN THE STUDENTS. THE KEY, THEREFORE, DEEMS IT APPROPRIATE TO PRESENT TO ITS READERS A GRAPHIC RECORD OF THE WORK AND PLAY OF A MODERN SCHOOL.

*Everything is good when new
But Friendship when old
Janet E. Lam*

WE, THE CLASS OF JUNE 1937, DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO YOU OF THE CLASSES YET TO COME. IN YOUR KEEPING WE PLACE THE BEST OF THE FRANKLIN TRADITION WHICH WE OURSELVES HAVE CHERISHED.

DURING OUR SOJOURN HERE, WE HAVE CONSCIENTIOUSLY WORKED TO MAINTAIN THE SCHOLASTIC AND ATHLETIC STANDARDS OF OUR PREDECESSORS. IT IS OUR HOPE THAT YOU WHO FOLLOW WILL ACHIEVE EVEN GREATER SUCCESS IN PRESERVING THE FRANKLIN HERITAGE THAT WE ALL HOLD SO DEAR.

Yours always Ladies Meo

BAND

The Benjamin Franklin Band, directed by Mr. Karl Van Hoesen, takes an essential part at school functions. From time to time the Band is seen and heard at school assemblies and games. The gay red sweaters indicate membership in this organization.

JUNTO

The Junto, the legislative body of the Benjamin Franklin school government, consists of 196 pupils, two from each homeroom. These two representatives are elected by their classmates and meet every two weeks to discuss school affairs and to air student opinion.

ORCHESTRA

The Benjamin Franklin Orchestra is also under the direction of Mr. Karl Van Hoesen. It appears alternately with the Band at school assemblies and contributes in a large measure to the pleasure derived from that part of the school work.

HOW TO SLEEP

Sleep is a pretty well accepted thing. In fact, just about everyone is doing it nowadays. It's only fair, therefore, that you should be told the correct way to go about it.

In order to get to sleep, you must of course go to bed. There are many people who sleep in other places, but we won't go into that now. Occasionally there are things which stand in the way of your retiring; for instance, you may be giving a party and find that your guests are having such a good time that they don't want to go home.

The correct thing to do is to give them hints. You might begin by yawning daintily and emitting a few ho-hums. If this fails, you might remark about the lateness of the hour and how early in the morning you must rise. If this doesn't get results, the best thing to do is to retire quietly to your bedroom and prepare for bed. Then, in your pajamas (your best, of course), with your hair all up in curlers, and cream on your face, stroll nonchalantly into the living room, glance about you with polite surprise and say, "Oh, are you still here?" If this doesn't get them out you might just as well go to bed and let them stay all night. They won't miss you any way.

Now that you are ready to go to bed, here are a few simple rules to follow:

1. Never leave your window open. You don't want to catch cold, do you?
2. Always eat a good heavy meal just before you hop into bed (if you can hop after a full meal). It gives you that satisfied feeling.
3. Read a hair-raising mystery story before you turn out the light. You're not a 'fraidy-cat, are you?
4. Be sure to have a nice soft bed, so that your tired self can sink right in—sort of comfy, you know.
5. Throw all clocks and watches out of the window so that their ticking won't annoy you.

Now, turn out the light.—Still awake? You're probably not going about it in the right way. Don't get discouraged. Some people say it helps to count sheep. Don't you believe it. Who ever heard of a shepherd sleeping? Then too, it isn't practical. You could never have a bedroom big enough to hold all the sheep necessary.

The best thing to do is to think of something pleasant like when Aunt Eustasia fell down the stairs and broke her leg. Above all don't think you hear a burglar downstairs. This will scare you so that you'll never fall asleep.

If you hear a noise, just say to yourself, "It's just the cat;" turn over on the other side.

You might try pretending you are asleep; perhaps you'll fool yourself into believing it. Close your eyes, breath slowly and at intervals give a few snorting sounds.—

Now, are you asleep? That's fine!

MAJOR DOWES AT FRANKLIN

"Good evening, folks. The wheel of fortune spins. 'Round and 'round it goes, and where it stops,—oh, you know how it goes!

"Here we are in this beautiful school with its modern greenhouse and swimming pool. The telephone number is Butterfield 0000."

(Voice)—"Major, here is a telegram from Principal Roy L. Butterfield, welcoming you to Franklin and making you honorary janitor."

"Thank you. That makes me very happy, indeed. Now we come to our first amateur. What is your name, young man?"

"Erle Remington."

"What does your father do? Where do you come from? How old are you? What is your ambition? And what do you do?"

"I act. I should like to do one of Freddie Bartholomew's scenes from 'Captains Courageous.'"

"Go right ahead."

* * * * * (time passes) * *

"All right, all right!"

(Voice)—"Major, I have a telegram from Adviser Francis making you honorary corridor aide."

"Thank you. Tha makes me very happy, indeed. The next card says, 'The Three Keys, vocal trio. What are your names, girls?'"

"Blanche Thompson, Catherine Sullivan, and Effie Riley. And that's all we'll tell you!"

"What's your song?"

"Rhythm in My Nursery Rhymes."

"All right, swing it!"

* * * * * (time passes) * *

"All right, all right. The telephone number is still Butterfield 0000."

(Voice)—"Major, a telegram has come from Adviser Pitts making you honorary guide."

"Thank you. That makes me very happy, indeed. Here is the next amateur. His name is Karl Van Hoesen. What do you do, Karl?"

"I play the violin. It has always been my ambition to be good enough to lead an orchestra."

"Well, go ahead and play your song."

* * * * * (time passes) * *

"All right, all right."

(Voice)—"Major, word has come from the cafeteria that you have been made honorary dishwasher and they asked me to present you with this hand-embroidered dish towel."

"Thank you. That makes me very happy, indeed. I am very sorry, but the hands of the clock have reached the point where we must say 'Good night.'"

(Voice)—"This program has been brought to you through the courtesy of the I. M. Ducky Company, makers of the Ducky Wucky Denta-stick. Are you constantly embarrassed by having your false teeth fall out while talking to strangers? Use Ducky-Wucky Denta-stick and you won't have to worry. You won't even be able to open your mouth!"

"This is station O-O-F signing off. Good evening."

GIRL CONFESSES MURDER !!

Tells of Amazing Adventure by the Old Mill Stream

The London fog was dense. A cry rang thru the night! A fire engine clanged. A fog horn blew. Horses' hoofs clattered on the pavement below. Of course none of this has to do with the story, but it does provide atmosphere.

Sharlie Shan was tense; he was agitated. Suddenly the telephone rang! Shan jumped up from his chair; he was astonished by the ring, for he knew that he hadn't paid his telephone bill for the past month. Picking up the receiver, he said, "Hello!" (This was an unusual expression for Sharlie to use; he always began a conversation with "Good-bye," having been a backward boy at school. This was putting the CARTER before the horse.) When he completed his conversation, he hung up the receiver, saying to himself, "I think I'll skip my daily ice cream COHEN; it was warm out yesterday and DRYER, but today it's COOLIGAN."

As he opened the door a GUSTAVE wind made his eyes BLINCO. At the same moment he sneezed, "Ah—CHIKOVSKY!!!"

"Gesundheit!" whispered a strangely sweet feminine voice. "PALLOT my cradle days," she wept. Her MASCARI ran down her cheeks. "At last I have found you. BECKER late than never. I didn't know MITCH HAUSS was yours. I have so much to tell you."

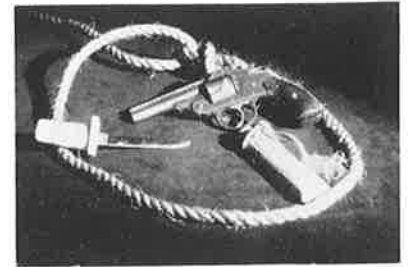

HARRIS her story: (ITKIN happen to anyone.)

She was so YOUNG, a country YOCKEL; he was such a HANSEN brute. At first they were just FRANZ. But it was spring. DE-MAY flowers were in BLUM. They rode on a MULE into a SMALLWOOD. BUTKUS it started BALKIN', they dismounted and walked to the old MILLER's pond. They stopped and he said, "Give me a KIS-KEed." He KISTER, she kept HURWITZ about her. "Why don't GILLETTE me go!" she cried.

"Heh, heh," he sneered, with a WINK in his eye. "You aMUHS me, my PETT!"

In ANGER she shouted, "ARVathing was all right until you came along, you scoundrel, you RADT(KE). You DUNN me wrong!"

From a golf bag lying on the ground she seized a NEBLICH and hit him over the head, but NOWACK on the head would stop him for he felt no PAYNE. Drawing forth a pistol, she strangled him with a stilletto. She took up a SAK and quickly put the body into it; then she threw it into the pond. Although he had been a good SWEEMER, it did not help him now, and he sank like a STONE.

Hurriedly she gathered up the picnic baskets containing half-BITTEN sandwiches, sour-KRAUSE, and a COPPLE bottles of pop. She fled from the scene of the crime.

"And here I am," she said, sobbing to Shan. "What shall I do?"

(To be continued)

WHAT SHOULD SHE DO? WHAT WILL HAPPEN NOW? WILL SHARLIE SHAN HELP HER?????? DON'T MISS THE NEXT CHAPTER OF THIS THRILLING MYSTERY.

A SENIOR'S VERSION OF A SONG

(Tune: "Gee, But You're Swell")

Gee, but I'm swell!
 When I say swell I mean
 I'm lovely as well.
 When I say lovely I mean
 Glorious. Gee,
 I'm mad about me;
 I'm about the grandest thing
 I ever did see.

SOB STORY

Their meeting was so sudden,
 Their parting was so sad;
 She sacrificed her only life,
 The only life she had.
 We buried her last summer;
 She's 'neath the daisies now,
 And that's what always happens
 When a freight train meets a cow.

ALMA MATER

In Franklin High we place our trust—
 The source of our life's aim;
 We crown with honors fair and just
 Our Alma Mater's name.
 Let steady foresight point the way
 And care our actions lead:
 Our deeds and not our words will lay
 Foundations of our creed.
 With loyalty to Franklin High,
 With harmony in thought,
 We shall with single purpose strive
 For strength in honors sought.
 Let hope acknowledge no defeat,
 And friendship be our rule;
 Let time with measured march repeat
 The spirit of our school.

Michael Golben, June '31

Best of luck
 to you always

Hermine,
 If I were to write a message
 to a girl like you
 I'm afraid it'd be the common thing I could do.
 So to you - I wish
 all the success
 your little big heart makes.
 To me it's the important part of your success.
